

Clamp Down On Celery Will Be Severe Blow To Glades

Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard says in an official statement from Washington that production of "luxury vegetables must be curtailed to allow transportation facilities to be shifted to more essential products." Two products in the "luxury" class are under production in the Lake Region annually and their curtailment will mean that several hundred acres of celery and peppers will receive a severe curtailment.

A joint circle meeting of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary Union was held at the church on Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. L. Speer, new WMU president, announced the appointment of the following standing committee: chairmen: Mrs. C. A. Moberg, literature and program; Mrs. W. H. Key, stewardship; Mrs. Georgia Lovett, personal service; Mrs. D. W. Crocker, Baptist Home; Mrs. Ethel Bell Stevens, flowers; Mrs. H. L. Speer, Stetson fund; Mrs. J. C. Mock, publicity; Mrs. Margaret Thompson, White Cross; Mrs. L. W. Mullis, Margaret fund; Mrs. L. M. Mullis, training school.

Members voted to send Christmas cards to all local Baptists serving in the armed forces. Mrs. Crocker was instructed to send clothing brought to the meeting for the group's protege, Dorothy

A brief program of songs and readings was presented by the Sunbeam Band. Children taking part were Shirley Watson, Wynell

Dale Maxwell High

In Scrap Drive, Has 202,650 Lbs. To Date

Dale Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxwell, seems to be the county winner in the scrap drive according to figures compiled which show the individual collections during the drive which is now coming to an end.

202,650 pounds of scrap and there wasn't any "doubling up" in the deal. Betty Lou Smith in Coraopolis, Gables in Dade County amassed 281,880 pounds of scrap, but it seems that this figure was attained by the grouping of weight receipts among Betty Lou and many of her friends.

Pahokee high school leads the county with 717,000 pounds of valuable scrap. It was said yesterday that all totals for the county had not been reported but

On the face of present returns it looks like the Pahokee youngsters have grabbed off another outstanding honor for themselves.

The drive in the Pahokee and Canal Point section was under the direction of the Pahokee Lions Club. Joe Hutton as scrap drive chairman, Chairman Hutton worked unceasingly along with the committee members in getting in the scrap. School teachers and school children joined in the drive wholeheartedly and the results are clearly evident.

To show their appreciation for the splendid cooperation on the part of the youngsters, the Pahoa Kee Lions club will give them a Halloween party at Lair Field on Saturday night. The program is scheduled to get under way at 8:00. Prizes won during the drive will be presented at the party.

Named Librarian For Defense Council

Mrs. W. J. Larrimore, who has been serving for the past three months as librarian at the Pahokee Public Library, has been appointed librarian for the Pahokee Canal Point Defense Council. She will be responsible for the distribution of all books and literature pertaining to home defense and the war effort throughout this area. This literature will be distributed through the facilities of the Public Library.

THE ANCIENT EGGPLANT

The eggplant is a vegetable of ancient and distinguished lineage, tracing its family history back to India, where it grows in wild profusion. The Arabs and Chinese long ago cannily recognized its worth, and set about cultivating it in the ninth century. And eggplant has been a staple of the European diet for almost as long.

But in spite of the fact that the first of the family arrived here not far behind the Mayflower, many people still look down on their most ancient purple-hued vegetable. In fact, no less an expert on the subject than Mrs. Frances Foley Gannon of the department of markets, reports that a goodly number of New Yorkers have never so much as tasted it.

In many cases, even those who have long included the eggshaped vegetable in their menus limit its use to the routine frying procedure. But its repertoire is far more versatile. It may, for instance, be boiled and creamed, or subjected to the au gratin treatment. Cut into rather thick slices and broiled, it is delicious; and first stuffing and then baking produce equally successful results.

A sound scheme, from the viewpoint of good nutrition, good economy and good meals, is to combine eggplant with a little meat or cheese—or with both. The principle is well illustrated in eggplant in cheese sauce—New York Times.

TOOTING OUR OWN HORN

Etiquette tells us that we should not talk about ourselves, that we should not toot our own horn. Well, we are breaking those rules and we are tooting our own horn because we believe we are justified in giving at least a few toots.

Perhaps it is not just the most polite thing to do, to blow your own horn, but sometimes such tooting will call attention to what is being overlooked. At any rate we think the weekly newspaper, at any rate the Webster Herald, is justified in tooting its own horn.

Whether it be in peace times or in war times, the newspaper plays an important part in the life of its community. Picture a community in which no newspaper circulates and you would find a very different scene. And this is true of all sections. As the metropolitan press is of importance to the metropolis, of equal importance is the rural newspaper to its community. We know of no other institution that gives as much of its time, effort and expense towards stimulating the growth and development of its community as does the weekly newspaper. This free service is greatly increased in war time.

Take the Herald for example. We do not think there is any other single agency in the community that contributes as much free time, effort and expense as does the Webster Herald towards the stimulating of effort directed towards the war work of the community. What other organization has contributed the pages of printed information and advertising to make the Webster Herald towards the stimulating of scrap materials, the calls and requirements of Red Cross and of the many other defense organizations. It costs money to prepare and publish and distribute what is borne by the weekly newspaper. This is more true of the weeks-than-of the metropolitan newspaper—Webster (N. Y.) Herald.

MASS MIGRATION

Half-a-million Americans will pull up stakes and move to a new town this month and next.

A majority will be trekking inland to help man the mushrooming armament industry plants in the mid-continental.

This mass migration, far exceeding population shifts in war time, will be as big as the times the over-the-road movement normal at this time of year. Statistics like these are at best informed guesses, but it is conservatively estimated that during the current year considerably more than a million persons will have set up homes in another state.

The California gold rush was pretty small compared to this war-work stampede. When the United States entered California, the population rose 80,000 between the latter part of 1848 and the end of 1849. In Detroit alone, between now and next July it is estimated that 100,000 additional workers must be brought in for the war plants. Adding in families, this will mean a population influx of around 400,000—Wall Street Journal.

HOLDING THE FRANCHISE

P. G. Howe, president, Florida Motor Lines, writes that while it is unwise to seek more traffic, he has to continue his advertising, primarily in appreciation of the good will and cooperation that has consistently been shown us by publishers.

Coca-Cola and many other large users of newspaper space are doing the same thing. They are playing ball with the newspapers, but they are also keeping their service and their product before the public. This war isn't going to last forever and the consumer quickly forgets. The smart ones want to be remembered.

Mr. Howe has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars publicizing the service and schedules of Florida Motor Lines. When he ceases to spend, he realizes he is not protecting the money he has already profitably spent in building up this successful transportation company.—Orlando Sentinel

Seek Higher Railroad Rates

Tallahassee, Oct. 29 (FNS)—Two important rate hearings were heard this week by the Florida Railroad Commission. On Tuesday applications of the Florida East Coast RR and the Seaboard Air Line RR for upward revision of their intrastate freight rates between Jacksonville and Miami and immediate points were heard at Miami.

The revisions sought by the railroads is an increase of the first class rate from $1.14 to $1.35 per hundred pounds and proportionate increases in rates for other classes of freight.

Similar increases in rates have been requested by truck lines operating east coast schedules and seeking an truck line authority at Jacksonville. Action of the commission on these applications will be announced at a later date.

Press Group To Meet Nov. 27th

Jacksonville, Oct. 29 (FNS)—At a joint meeting of directors of the Florida Press Association and the Florida Printers Association held here last week, it was decided to hold the annual meeting of the Press Association in the form of a 2-day conference at the Mayflower Hotel, Friday, Nov. 27.

The conference will be given over for the most part to an open forum or round table discussion of the various and vexing problems that confront printers and publishers in connection with governmental restrictions and regulations, shortages of materials and manpower, and other questions vital to the industry.

Congressman Patman (D. Tex.), chairman of the House Special Small Business Committee, will hold a hearing in Jacksonville on that date, and a special effort is being made to have this committee sit in on a portion of the press conference. Senators Andrews and Pepper as well as members of Florida's delegation in the house will be invited to attend.

An effort is being made to secure Elmer Davis, head of the Office of War Information, as speaker at the annual banquet to be held that evening.

A returned naval war hero is also scheduled on this program to give a thrilling story of his experiences.

Opposes Ninth Amendment

Tampa, Oct. 29 (FNS)—There is too much exemption now, Robert L. Newman, executive secretary of the Florida Taxpayers Association, said in explaining strong opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment providing additional tax exemption for property owned by religious, fraternal and charitable organizations.

The proposed amendment, one of many to be voted on in November, would only "widen the door" for tax dodgers, Newman said. The Association went on record as opposing the amendment and urged taxpayers to reject it.

Baraca Class For Baptists

The Baraca Class for men of the First Baptist Church, Palatka, extends an invitation to all unaffiliated men of this community to attend a study class beginning on Monday, Nov. 2, 1942. The class, recently organized by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Moberg, teacher, plans to read the "Thomas" store building just across from the church. A piano will be added that the men might have their own social hour.

At the morning hour of eleven the pastor will speak on "His Feet Shall Stand." Rev. Moberg will sing "Christ Is King." At eight p. m., the pastor will speak on "Without Christ." Three classes will be held, namely, "I'll Be So Glad," "Wonderful Jesus," "I Have Christ in My Heart."

The annual Training Union Study course will begin Sunday night at 6:30 sharp. The Adult Bible class will be taught by Mrs. E. Stevens, Intermediate book, "The Fine Art of Soul Winning," by Mrs. C. A. Moberg, Young People's book, "People Called Baptists," and the Junior book, "Trail Makers in Other Lands," by Clark Hall. The school will be directed by W. W. Unwin. All members of the church are urged to enroll.

BLUE DEVILS MEET FOOT LAURELIDE TONIGHT

The Palatka Blue Devils meet the scrappy Foot Laurelides tonight in what should be an interesting game. The Laurelides outfit is admittedly stronger than the local aggregation and Coach, Boile's men will have to step to maintain their undefeated slash of the season.

Last Friday night the locals, the visiting Vero Beach eleven to a scoreless tie. The smallest crowd in years was present for the game last Friday night.

Railroads are Performing TWO JOBS Vital to the Life of the Nation

No. 1
Speeding OUR WAR PROGRAM

Troops must be moved—huge, ever-increasing quantities of munitions, supplies and war materials must be kept flowing. This is the railroads' No. 1 war-time assignment.

Unlike other industries, the railroads in time of war take on heavy military duties without giving up their peace-time occupation. They alone can provide the huge extra volume of transportation required to wage a total war, but at the same time must continue to meet civilian needs. That you will agree, is a pretty tough assignment.

In performing these two great tasks and doing them well, the railroads are proving indispensable to the very life and continued freedom of the nation.

The facilities of the Florida East Coast Railway, like those of other railroads are dedicated first of all to winning this war of survival. If our regular service does not always come up to normal peacetime standards, we trust you will make due allowances for conditions. It is our earnest desire to give you and your community the best possible service the emergency will permit.

No. 2
Maintaining OUR CIVILIAN LIFE

In addition, civilian needs must be met. Crops, food, fuel, merchandise and other necessities of our daily life must continue to move as they did during peacetime.

FLORIDA EAST COAST Railway

☆ A SERVICE VITAL TO FLORIDA AND THE NATION ☆

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay

As this is my last column prior to the general election, I decided to devote it to further discussion of the several amendments to be voted on at that time.

Unfortunately, the language in which amendments are written makes it difficult for the average citizen to clearly understand what they are all about. In consequence, the tendency of the voter is to "take somebody else's word for it" or just fail to vote.

The Attorney General has recently issued a pamphlet in which he has carefully analyzed each amendment, explaining the good and bad points. While more or less the product of a legal mind, it deals with the subjects, in a manner which enables the average voter to grasp the problems, and I strongly advise that you write immediately to J. T. Watson, Attorney General, Tallahassee, requesting a copy.

The most important amendment under consideration will appear as

No. 1 on the ballot and is commonly known as the "Known Amendment." This is intended to stabilize this state's biggest debt problem. It has been endorsed by leading civic and political groups and its passage should be a step forward.

Amendment No. 2 has to do with streamlined state government, and makes for speed in legislative action to meet the present day emergency. If passed, it will permit us to amend our constitution within 90 days, should the occasion arise. It is endorsed by the Florida Bar Association as constructive and in line with the times.

The Third Amendment has to do with the creation of Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. While approved by sportsmen and other groups, it should be given thought by the voter. It clothes the commission with unlimited power to tax and spend, it sets up a practical dictatorship far as the control of wild life in the state is concerned. It is undemocratic and dangerous as the power granted embraces execution, imprisonment, and the branches of government and the commission would not even be subject to judicial control. As such as we may need money and constructive fix and game legislation, the price asked is altogether too much to pay.

Amendment No. 4 provides for the election of circuit judges by popular vote rather than their appointment by the governor. Opinion is pretty evenly divided on this. The question is do we want our judges under the influence of modern day politics or because of appointment free from such restraints and influences.

The Fifth Amendment sets up a commission for the control of salt water fishing, its work dealing primarily with the commercial fishing industry. Unlike the amendment previously mentioned dealing with Game and Fresh Water Fish, it is not given the unlimited power of absolute dictatorship and is subject to legislative approval and control. Generally it would improve the present situation and make for uniformity of laws and regulations.

No. 6 on the ballot is the amendment that would provide for the establishment of two new senatorial districts, one to be composed of Broward county and the other Gulf and Calhoun counties. The welfare of the state demands a complete reorganization of the entire state. While these areas, because of growth and development, no doubt justify such representation, it is not the correct or democratic means of securing it.

The 7th amendment deals with Dade county. While good in the principle of electing commissioners county wide, it is dangerous in its restricting clause as future shifts of population might easily create unjust and unfair inequalities.

The 8th Amendment would permit the government of 25 cents of the salary of anyone making $25.00 a week or more. It is weak

What The Movies Have to Offer During The Coming Week

Looking over the "film o' fare" for this coming week I find there are things to be said about every show listed—and I don't mean empty things.

The red pencil comes down first on the Sunday-Monday show, scheduled for the Prince Theatre, which I personally believe is a thoroughly enjoyable play for any type audience. That play is "Lady in a Jam." It stars lovely Irene Dunne and Patric Knowles, who are ably assisted by Quenice Vassar, Eugene Pallette and Samuel B. Hinds.

In "Lady in a Jam" Miss Dunne portrays an irresponsible New York heiress who goes broke and then goes West to the husband of Arizona to work on an abandoned gold mine in a ghost town. From the moment she arrives the story jumps into spectacular action and never lets down for one single minute. Critics over the nation give it their all in praise. Henry Fonda comes to our opus house for a one-act Tuesday evening with Lynn Bari, in "The Lady in the Dunes." They have given them the best in a supporting cast. There's Don Alcock, Edward Everett Horton and a

George Barber, all turning in wonderful performances in the unspooling of this delightful story, filled with comedy situation that is sure to rock the old show house with laughter.

Well, sirens and medallions, this story is a honey. A small town "dope" from a little white steed in Vermont comes to the roaring, bustling city—just to give the town a looking over. There he meets the Jill in the pic. She is Lynn Bari. The Jill goes for this town red blood boy in a big way, and she goes to work on him. Result is one of the comedy hits of the year. Well—I'll let you enjoy the story when you see it on the screen this coming week.

On the Wednesday-Thursday double dose, Frigates "I'll have to choose "Dr. Broadway" as the outstanding pic of the pair. It stars MacDonald Carey and Jean Phillips, with J. Carroll Nash, Richard Lane and Edward Chas. helping them along in unrelenting this fast moving tale. Broadway in this pic has more than his share and you will get a thrill out of this new and different story. "The Mad Mariadones," which is on the same bill, stars John Withers and Jimmy Lyon, two delightful kids, each with a large following. Story shows the financial condition of our country.

by shady. Alan Mobray, who is the pappy in the pic, decides to disappear in the hope of finding a boy for the family art treasures. The gals, Jane and Marjorie Weaver, are having boy trouble. In their father's absence Jane and the moon struck Marjorie, work out a solution that not only doesn't solve matters, but that they themselves worse—building a hilarious comedy. Of the two pictures on the Friday set-up it's a case of what you like best. If you like a hilarious comedy of happy-go-lucky married life you will like "Are Husbands Necessary," which stars J. Carroll Nash, Betty Field and Patricia Morrison. It's a swell story that was the best seller of the year under the title "Mr. and Mrs. Cogswell," and written by Isabel Scott. I believe you'll like it pretty much. Feeling with this story, and a boy for action, is "The Girl From Alaska," starring Ray Middleton and Jerome Cowan and a fine supporting cast of boys and girls. Show this is a saga of the old gold rush days with all the roistering action one would associate with that great old country. I am sure neither of these shows will let you down.

Those two roughies of Western picture-makers, that shooting "Wild Bill" Elliott and "Hard Fisted" Tex Ritter, come to town Saturday in a swell cow opus, in which they both pay off heavy in action and thrills. It is "Roaring Frontier."

I am sure every member of the Six Shooters Club will tighten the cinch on their bicycles and come a-trotting to the Prince on this day. The mad adventurous show is in a long time.

Another chapter of "Perils of Nyoka" comes on this day, and, again, from the number of letters I would say it is exciting enough to warrant us all taking it in every week. I have already witnessed all of it and can recommend it to serial fans.

How are you doing with your "War Bonds and Bonds"? See you at the movies—Mal.

J. P. Hancock, home on furlough from service in the U. S. Army Air Corps, was honor guest at a party and wine and roses given by Mrs. Mary Carcab at the home of her brother, C. L. Wilder, Mrs. Julia Bakerowski, Miss Louise Beasley, Louise Lee, J. W. Brown and Carney Wood.

A LETTER FROM ONE OF "MY BOYS"
"This letter came this week from one of "My Boys," and I give it to you verbatim.
Dear Mom:
I received your letter today. It was sent from Norfolk. I sure was glad to hear from you. Your weekly letter to "Your Boys" helps us in spirit more than we can tell you. Here is something that I copied out of the home weekly paper, "The Newport Recruit."
"WHAT IS A SAILOR?"
A sailor is a guy who's worked too hard, gets too little sleep, takes violent abuse that no civilian would take, does every imaginable kind of work at any unimagined hour, never seems to get paid, never knows where he is going, can seldom tell where he has been—yet accepts the worst with complete resignation, and is just but not least—he likes it. You know why?
When you're dog tired, been up all day and about to hit your sack at 8 a. m. voice shouts: "Turn on Work Detail!" You are ready to die at 2 p. m., but the job must be finished by dawn. . . .
You don't care if you live or die; suddenly you're through your sailor, it's over and you did it—
You think of all the people you know and how they would react under the same circumstances and then you begin to grin. You grin because you can't see, any more of nothing, and it's a fact that there isn't any ordeal you can't face, and you know it!
Here is another. It's between an American and English sailor.
U. S. Sailor: "Our battle ships are so large that the captain uses an automobile to go around 'the deck.'"
English Sailor: "That's nothing. Our ships are so large that in the galley order stew to submerge in the Irish stew, to use the potatoes are cooked!"
One of "Your Boys."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

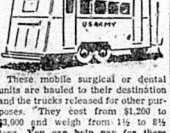

The "Steeplejack" is the 60-millimeter trench mortar is commonly known, is used by our Infantry for close-in fighting. It fires a 2.4-pound shell at the rate of about 35 a minute.

The mortar fires its projectile in a shaped arc and for this reason may be successfully camouflaged behind an obstruction. It costs about $30. You and your neighbors, joining together, can buy any of these effective weapons for your own use. Investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday will do the job. Get the firing line on the home front. Join the "Ten Percent Club."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

An Army motor trailer looks much like any other automobile trailer which may be seen on the highways or in the tourist's camp. The Army's trailers are used as traveling hospitals, dental clinics and sorting laboratories.

These mobile surgical or dental units are hauled to their destination and the trucks released for other purposes. They cost from $1,250 to $2,000 and weigh from 15 to 25 tons. You can help pay for them. . . . help keep our Army fit. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. You can join the Ten Percent Club through the Payroll Savings Plan, or buy Bonds regularly through the nearest bank or postoffice.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A Flying Fortress is to America's air fleet what heavy artillery is to the Army. This gigantic four-motored bomber, equipped with heavy cannons, carries about three tons of bombs and reaches a speed of about 300 miles an hour.

These ships carry a crew of seven to nine men, weigh about 22½ tons, have a wing spread of 103 feet and each motor develops 1,000 horsepower. We need more of these "Flying Fortresses" to compete with the Nazi air force. You can help by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Buy them from your bank, postoffice or other convenient issuing agent.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Military motorcycles, for couriers, for speeding light guns from one section to another, are an important part of a soldier's equipment. Many are equipped with sidecars for use of staff officers. They cost from $400 to $600.

We need thousands of these spial maneuverable machines in our Army today. You and your neighbors, all backed by War Bonds and Stamps, can help buy them for the Army. Investing at least ten percent of your income every payday in War Bonds and Stamps and become a member of the patriotic "Ten Percent Club." A rapidly becoming the largest club in the world.

The sixteen-inch coast gun is the most powerful of all American guns and costs about $2,000,000 each. It will throw a shell weighing up to a ton for miles. The Coast Guard also has an eighteen-mile railway gun which will hurl a heavy projectile about 18 miles.

For defense of our homes, the Coast Guard needs many of these powerful weapons. You can do your part to help pay for them by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds and Stamps every payday. U. S. Treasury Department
